TWO WERE DEAD and buried Friday afternoon when James Brown, 31, of 216 Prewitt Village drove his Pinto across the median strip on US 27 at Bean City and slammed into a semi truck hauling a load of sand to Miami. At the time this picture was taken, Brown had been removed from the compact car's wreckage by shovel-wielding workers who removed the sand covering the car which was spilled by the truck. It wasn't until an hour later, when the wreck was hoisted to a flatbed truck that his nephew, 13-year old Darrell Wayne Brown of 294 SW Tenth St. in South Bay was found. The truck driver, Mauro Emerio Perez of Miami was shaken but otherwise unhurt.

Garbage carts draw praise and protests

BELLE GLADE — Petitions bearing the signatures of 107 residents protested the acceptance of a garbage collection system now being experimented with in a pilot program but the residents taking part in that program reported overwhelmingly in favor of continuing it.

City Manager Robert R. Sanders told city commissioners Monday night he had received one petition bearing 177 signatures before the meeting and another petition with 30 more names was brought to him just as the meeting began.

The petitions protested the use of the mobile toter garbage carts being used at 600 homes in Belle Glade now in a semi-automated collection system because of fears the garbage toters will be eyesores if not returned to the residents' yards after pickup.

Sanders noted that only nine of the 77 signatures on the first petition lived on the 600-home pilot program route, although more names on the second petition were apparently of people living on the route.

Sanders also told the commissioners that Public Works Director Ron Sigmon and Sanitation Supervisor Roy Polling had been following the route to keep a check on the carts left at curbside and that 86 percent of the carts had been removed before 5 p.m. Monday.

The pilot program pickups are being made only on Mondays and Thursdays. The route consists of several streets east of the downtown area, parts of the southwest section of town and one trailer park on SR715.

"We've been making spot checks along the route," Sanders said, "and we've had a very, very good response. By and large," Sanders said, the favorable comments far outweigh the negative comments, although there have been some of those."

Mayor Tom Altman said he has been keeping a log of comments on the experimental system and that 90 percent of the comments he's heard have been negative. Commissioner Claude Tindall said the only comment he's heard has been against it.

"We're probably all biased about the system, one way or another," Altman said, "and we'd like to encourage comments from the public."

Answering a question from Mrs. Neteleah Nachman, Altman reiterated the city's position that in the case of people who can't physically roll the carts to the street, city employees will do so for them, noting there are several such homes on the pilot route.

Glenn Bair, in the audience to get approval for installation of culvert and roadway on Tabit Road which will allow him to move to Belle Glade from Pahokee, compared the system there with the back yard pickup which had been used before the automated pickup.

Bair said he'd lived in Pahokee for years, "and for years I had trash blowing across the lawn. But since personalized pickup, I can honestly say there has been no trash floating around. I like the system."

Mrs. Bair, accompanying her husband, said she'd rather have garbage cans left at curbside than have loose trash in her yard.

Altman said that if the city commission does decide to install the system permanently, the commission will have to pass an ordinance requiring residents to remove their carts to their yards and make sure the ordinance is enforced.

The first official pickups were made with the new system June 29. The pilot program, costing the city $995, will last 60 days. After that the commissioners will decide whether to retain backyard pickup or go to the mobile toters permanently.

Sanders said that before the decision is made, a survey will be made of all the residents participating in the program to get their feelings about it.

The city manager also said that he has received some request by persons on the route to sell the carts to them if the city should decide not to accept the experimental pickup system.

Idea proposed by Jose Marti group

City considers intern program

BELLE GLADE—The city may begin a volunteer intern program this summer if talks between the city manager and members of the Jose Marti Club bear fruit.

Enrique Molina of 2 NE Ave. J read a letter to the commissioners during Monday evening's meeting on behalf of the club members requesting the city to institute a program which would provide educational opportunities to area teenagers during the summer.

Jesus Garcia of 990 SE Second St. elaborated by saying the club members aren't interested in the city building a recreational park "to entertain our kids." He said the club is more interested in giving the teens "a chance to learn something.

Garcia suggested an intern program, with the youths working with and observing various people employed by the city. He stressed the youths need not be paid.

Mayor Tom Altman agreed with the concept, saying the city had previously taken part in an Executive High School Intern Program, which was administered in the Glades for two years before being dropped a year ago.

Altman suggested City Manager Robert R. Sanders meet with the club members to come up with a plan for implementing the summer program.

In other business, the commission-

- Granted a request for annexation and zoning for single family residences a 19 acre plot of land immediately south of Sugar Subdivision East and Gladeview Elementary School.

The land is owned by Jeff Thomas and William Acree will be the purchasing contractor. Acree was present for the commission meeting and noted there will be a total of 69 lots meeting city specifications which could be developed for private homes.

At a question from Mayor Tom Altman, Acree said the property isn't part of a proposed 320 acre park which the county may build as part of a $50 million beach and parks bond issue program.

He said the land is accessible by extending Southwest Eighth and 12th Streets. There is no frontage on a major road.

- Authorized the auction of surplus city property. The commissioners said they want to see a list of items to be sold during the auction.

- Heard a report which indicates 60 percent of the 80 some homes checked on Whitaker Road are in favor of using property there for a trial bike path. Sanders' assistant, Joe Fay, said he only found 15 percent of the homeowners polled to be against the plan. The remainder weren't available.

Election advance

BELLE GLADE—Would-be city commissioners will have their first chance to qualify as candidates for the Sept. 12 city election at 8 a.m. Friday in City Clerk June Boglioli's office at the city hall in the municipal complex.

The at-large seats of Mayor-Commissioner Tom Altman and Commissioner Ralph Kirk will be vacated by the election. If the two commissioners decide to run for reelection, Kirk will be seeking his fifth two-year term and Altman will be running for his third term.

The qualifying period will last from Friday through Aug. 23 and the last day of voter registration is Aug. 12. The election itself will be on the same day as the first state primary. The runoff election, if needed, will be held Sept. 19.

Mrs. Boglioli said there have been several changes made in the election laws and urged anyone interested in running for one of the two seats to contact her office before qualifying. She also said anyone who waits until the last minute to qualify could find themselves in the position of not being able to accomplish it in one day.

Smut: Experts say it's here to stay

BELLE GLADE—A gathering of high-powered brains and sugar cane growers Friday at the Agricultural Research and Experiment Center (AREC) was adjourned with a consensus feeling that sugarcane smut is definitely here, probably to stay, and no one knows much more about it right now but the growers are being asked to cooperate in identifying it.

Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner, who said what he knows about the disease found June 28 in an experimental plot of United States Sugar cane near Clewiston is what he read on his flight down, said he hopes the Florida sugar industry can eradicate the smut and won't have to learn to live with it.

But Jack L. Dean, sugarcane research plant pathologist with the United States Sugarcane Field Station in Canal Point, and J.H. Purdy, chairman of the Department of Plant Pathology with the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS) with the University of Florida, offered the opinion cane smut, which by the time of the meeting had been located in five areas of Palm Beach and Hendry Counties, said the best course of action would be to continue attempts to eradicate the disease but to begin plans to live with it.

They said the best defense against sugar cane smut in other areas it has struck has been the development of varieties of cane resistant to the disease.

In the meantime, the growers who packed the AREC conference room were asked to keep an eye out for the smut in their own fields. If the smut is found, the growers were asked to not disturb it but to call 996-6183 or 996-2403 to notify the USDA and State Department of Agriculture survey teams.

The teams, working under the direction of Jesse Denmark and Charles Poucher, are working out of an office set up in an area labor camp. Poucher, chief of the Bureau of Special Projects, said the initial purpose of the teams is to find how widely spread the smut is and how it's distributed.

He said Friday was the first day he had a full force of men on the job. "We have people all the way from Marion to Dade Counties," Poucher said. "They're the best people we have and the USDA is in it 50:50 with us."

Poucher estimated it would take as long as six weeks to complete the survey to determine how far the smut has spread. He stressed the importance of quarantining the fields, once they are found to have

see SMUT P 7

A SMUT MAP was shown on a slide Friday to sugar growers and others concerned with the discovery June 29 of the dreaded disease in South Florida. As of Friday morning, the smut had been found in four fields located in the three spots marked south of Clewiston. State Department of Agriculture Special Projects Chief Charles Poucher said Wednesday that survey crews have found more fields infested with the smut but all are still in the same general locations.

Who says crime doesn't pay?
While a boy and later a teenager, that theory was pounded into my head by the most completely honest man I've ever met, my father. I think now the only thing he can ever be convicted of is innocence.

Crime does pay. Ask John T. Bowles. Or any of the other major drug dealers enjoying the Florida sunshine and the rural darkness that allows them to land their aircraft and dock their pot and cocaine-laden craft with impunity.

For five years, the State Attorney's office in Fort Myers worked to produce a case against John T. Bowles of Buckhead Ridge. They finally did it, at considerable cost to the taxpayers and Bowles was arrested and charged with conspiracy to import drugs. His bond was set at one million dollars and the Supreme Court upheld the bond, the highest ever. In my mind, that would mean somebody felt Bowles wasn't a very good security risk.

By the way, to show you something of what Bowles' family life was like, his son was killed in an airplane crash in Glades County shortly before last year. Sheriff Roy Lundy felt at that time the plane was being used to smuggle pot. Unfortunately, it was burned to seinder. The rumors going around it was shot down.

He also has a brother. A brother who served a few years for a civil rights killing in Texas. And who was arrested in a plane in Cleveland and over 100 pounds of pot seized. As I recall, the plane and attending vehicles had radio equipment in them that could monitor and "unscramble" the most sophisticated police bands.

So what did they do with John T. after he was found guilty? Slapped him in prison, a just desert for a life of crime, as my father would say. But after all this, the prison he was slapped into was one of minimum security.

And last week, John T. escaped. Even though the feds had placed a hold on him and were next in line, he walked away from his guard while on a grocery-shopping expedition at his brother-in-law's store in Tampa.

John T. and his family did pretty well when they lived at Buckhead. I doubt they worried about the bills very much. And I understand there have been incidents on the coast where a "shady" character has walked up to a real estate office with a suitcase containing $165,000 in cash to pay for a waterfront home.

Yes, my father is completely honest. That's why he and people like him can't understand crime does pay. Very well indeed. And it will continue to pay until the judicial system begins to look out punishment instead of wrist slaps and the penal system abides by the rules of punishment rather than providing a rest stop for such men as John T. And a very comfortable rest stop at that.

If enough of the citizens of the country wish it to be legalized, then fine. This doesn't mean an individual has to use it. Otherwise, it should remain illegal. And those who use it and those who smuggle it should be willing to face penalties if they are caught. It's that simple.

Monsters in our midst

We've created monsters in our midst who would give Dr. Frankenstein cause to celebrate the mildness of his creation.

That point was hammered home twice last week. The first was an ABC news special called Youth Terror: The View From Behind the Gun and the second was a news story Friday morning telling how a multiple killer, by the tender age of 15, who was sentenced to a grand total of 18 months in juvenile detention.

The kids, if they can be called the same thing we call our average offspring, on television had three things in common. They steal to get the things they want. They take out their frustrations by beating other people and not once during the hour show did one of them express the slightest hint of remorse.

The 15-year old in the news story could have been one with the young terrorists on the television show. He shot and killed two men on the New York subway, one from a range of three inches. He was picked up for picking a victim's pocket and released by a judge to his mother. Two days later, he shot and seriously wounded another man. In a juvenile detention center, he stabbed another inmate in the neck with a fork because the other kid committed the crime of sitting down next to our young hero.

The unnamed boy has bragged of being arrested eight times for robbery and while he was incarcerated in a youth center he intimidated the staff, bludgeoning two of them with a hammer. In one day, he managed to rape another boy, steal a truck, attempted to run down a social worker and menaced other staffers with a crowbar. When a psychiatrist was called, he was also beaten up.

And if that wasn't enough, after the kid was arrested, he wasn't one of your more mannerly inmates. Far from throwing himself on the mercy of the court, he spat on an attorney, threw an ashtray at a guard, cursed the judge and said he was keeping a list of the people he was going to kill when he's released.

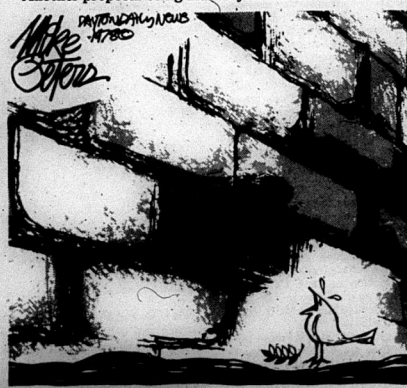

And released he will be because the judge was only able, under New York law, to give him a maximum sentence of 18 months to five years for juvenile delinquency...a small price indeed to pay for the lives of two men and the other boyish pranks he's amused himself with.

It's enough to make some people mad...as mad as one member of the recently elected Silver Haired Legislature.

The result of that anger is a bill which will be proposed to the state legislature which would decrease the age from 18 to 16 for which a defendant would be treated as an adult.

And 16, by the by, is the same age as two Belle Glade juveniles who managed to occupy one recent Saturday with the juvenile pranks of doing more than $12,000 worth of damage to 11 tractors.

Another proposal being made by that same Silver Haired legislator is that anyone convicted of a crime resulting in the death of a senior citizen be given a mandatory death sentence.

THE WAILING WALL

About the only change we'd make is that to earn the mandatory death penalty, the act would have to have been premeditated...and we're not at all sure the words senior citizen shouldn't be replaced with "a person".

There's little question that would deter a big hunk of violent crime...even if the deterrence is to insure the absence from society of someone who's already killed.

There aren't an awful lot of people who've been executed who have managed to return to the streets and kill someone else.

And the reason, for the bleeding hearts, needn't be revenge. Call it social surgery...something like removing a cancer. Cancer may even be the best way to describe these young hoodlums.

No new board

When members of the Area Planning Board pick up their copies of an interim report recently released on what management structures non-point pollution control of water should take, they really have only one of the five options proposed.

Nothing included in the last four proposals makes sense at all. After reading the first option to allow the South Florida Water Management District to manage the 208-program, the other four options offer little in the way of feasible alternatives.

The SFWMD has the expertise to handle water management problems. It has its own past record to stand on as well as the benefit of any new information being dredged up on a day-to-day basis.

Most of all, it's here. There would be no need to form a new agency to handle the job or expand the scope of another agency, such as the Area Planning Board or the 201 agency.

Besides, the SFWMD has a track record of expertise which is realistic instead of pie-in-the-sky idealism which would attempt to ensure pristine water at the expense of anything and everything else.

Let's stick with the known.

Rogers' replacement

The Glades, as well as the rest of Palm Beach County, and Congress, won't be the same without U.S. Representative Paul Rogers when he retires at the end of this year after 24 years of service.

Rogers is one of the best friends people in the Glades have had and has done much for western Palm Beach County. Unlike many politicians from the coast, he wasn't a stranger here and many people from the Glades regards him as a personal friend.

His announcement last week predictably triggered a rash of statements from politicians from throughout Rogers' district who said they were interested in, are thinking about, or definitely are going to attempt to fill his shoes.

How adequately any of those would-be Congressmen can serve as a replacement for Rogers is still a moot point but there are already moves afoot by the so-called kingmakers in the county to put their men in Washington and his replacement is something people in the Glades ought to be actively considering or we could wind up with someone who is a stranger to the area and its needs.

Rogers served his constituents as well as anyone in Congress and better than most. He was always accessible and sympathetic to problems he might be able to help people with and we're going to miss him.

But we'll miss him more if he's replaced by someone oriented solely to the problems and lifestyles of the Palm Beaches and disinterested in agriculture and the problems of the Glades.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

In the suspicions confirmed department, I knew there was a good reason so many people in Palm Beach County are so willing to make the sacrifice of serving the public in Washington when Paul Rogers leaves this year.

Let's face it. When you have so many people of such high caliber willing to leave the Land 'o' Sunshine there may be a couple of martyrs in the crowd but there's gotta be something else.

Which begs the question: what is there in the District of Columbia to attract people like Jesse Guido, who was running even when he thought Rogers was, or Bill Fausch, or John Considine or Reid Moore or Steve Mitchell for that matter.

By the way, Steve, after looking over your qualifications, I'll have to admit you'd make an impressive addition to Congress but let's face facts, I haven't met a newswoman yet, and darn few newswomen, who wouldn't fill the same bill.

Nevertheless, you run and I'll not only vote for you but you got a PR man in the Glades...una minto lava la otra mano as it were. I always did believe in keeping both hands clean.

Anyhow, the answer to the question came in the mail last week in the form of a breakdown on what it costs to keep a Congressman in Washington.

Think $57,500 is a handsome salary? So do I but that ain't even close to the half of it.

The brutal fact is that it costs an average of ten times that to keep a Congressman in Congress for each and every year. That's $321 million a year and by the time we crank in the other perks, it's bound to be two or three times that.

Not to mention that what with all the giveaways like paying kids $2.65 an hour to attend summer school, $375,000 to study flight characteristics of the Frisbee and hundreds of thousands of dollars more to figure out why kids fall off bicycles, whether pregnant women should go SCUBA diving, how long it takes the average housewife to prepare breakfast and why convicts want to escape from prison.

By the time you add all these little things up, the only possible conclusion a thinking person can come to is that we'd all be a lot better off if we could borrow a page from the Florida legislature and limit the Congress to 100 members.

But 60 days is too long. Let's think more along the lines of 15 days...or maybe a week. Then, by the time you figure they won't meet on Monday or Friday, they'd only have three days to come up with new ways to justify their existence and cost us more money.

Then we could get a national initiative Constitutional Amendment together which would both prohibit Congress from setting up a sunset law which would automatically dissolve any government bureau or department unless it could be proven to Congress every 60 days there is a need for it's continued existence.

Since Congress would only be meeting three days out of the year, it wouldn't be too long before there wouldn't be any more federal bureaucracy left and we could all breathe easier.

Another possibility would be to force a little more initiative on the Congressmen by offering them a $29 a year salary and a commission on all the graft they're able to scrape together.

Make 'em pay their own salaries, see, and then they wouldn't be chargin' all those goodies off to you and me, the taxpayers. Let AT&T jet our representative to some ski resort in the Bahamas. Who cares if Consolidated Octopus Conglomerates pays a Senator's way to Paris? Let 'em go, so long as the money doesn't come from the public trough. They'd be out of the country that way and wouldn't be costing us a dime.

Come to think of it, that might not be a bad platform to run for Congress on. Someone oughta give it a whirl. 'Y'all elect me to Congress, boys, and I promise: I won't be doing much up there in Washington to cost you so much money.

Matter of fact, forget about it Steve. Why should I vote for someone else when I've got such a great platform myself? Now, all I gotta do is come up with a catchy slogan and make sure it gets the right amount of publicity.

Something like...Graft is Great! The Cracker Crumb for Congress. We're looking for more by '84.

Miss Dorothy Averill weds Mr. Richie

BELLE GLADE—Miss Dorothy Ellie Averill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant E. Averill, of 615 S.E. Second St. in Belle Glade, became the bride of William Meredith Ritchie, son of George Ritchie and the late Mrs. Ethel Ritchie of Salisbury, N.C. Saturday, July 11 at Saint John's Episcopal Church in Belle Glade with the Rev. Charles Farra and the Rev. John Flanning officiating the ceremony.

A family mass was held at 9 a.m. and the marriage vows were exchanged in the afternoon.

The altar was decorated with two arrangements of white roses, snapdragon, carnations, baby mums with palms on both sides. Greenery was used through the railings and a white arrangement of roses and carnations was used on the organ.

Adam L. Decker of West Palm Beach presented the music. Chaconne by Couperin, Finale and Fugue by Mendelssohn, My Heart Ever Faithful by Bach, Cantilene Nuptials by Dubois. The processional was Trumpet Tune in D Major by Purcell and the recessional was Trumpet Voluntary in D Major by Purcell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long gown of ivory tulle and English nettings accented with Alencon and Venice lace. The gown featured a Queen Anne neckline and the bodice and long straight sleeves were completely appliqued with lace. The skirt fell from an empire waistline and was highlighted with vertical rows of lace. The train was edged with Venice lace. Her veil featured Brussels lace along its border and fell to her elbows. Her bouquet was round of white roses and stephanotis. She wore a diamond pendant, a gift from the groom on their wedding day.

Mrs. William N. Watts of Ocala and Mrs. Roger L. Nielson of Tampa, sisters of the bride served as matrons of honor. They wore long peach silk-cotton gowns featuring slit caped sleeves. They carried round bouquets of ivy, coral roses and stephanotis.

Steven Ritchie of Atlanta, Ga., served his father as best-man. Ushers were Jeffrey Ritchie, son of the groom, from Cornelia, Ga., William N. Watts of Ocala and Roger L. Nielson of Tampa, brothers-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Averill chose for her daughter's wedding a dusty blue chiffon, french length dress with long puffy sleeves. Mrs. Ritchie wore a long blue polyester knit with a blue lace jacket. Both wore white philanopsis corsages.

The reception was held at the Belle Glade Country Club. The five tiered wedding cake was decorated with wedding bells. Large arrangements of white roses, snapdragons, carnations, mums and baby's breath graced the cake, punch and hor' d'oeuvre tables.

Miss Diane Duda kept the bride's book.

For her going away dress, Mrs. Ritchie chose a short blue silk polyester dress and carried a nosegay of small white carnations. After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie will be at home at 258 Lakeview Heights, Cornelia, Ga.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Safrit, Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Curlee, Mr. and Mrs. George Ritchie all of Salisbury, N.C.; Mr. Bill Wall and Miss Robin Lee of High Point, N.C.; Gretchen Nichols of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stokes of Wetumpka, Alabama; Mr. Jack Short of Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Johnson, Rouston, Ga.; Dr. and Mrs. M. Duke Edwards of Naples; Dr. and Mrs. Morris Greenberg of Miami; Mr. and Mrs. John Bregar, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Murray and Chad, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blum, Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Lyons, Miss Becky Rhodes of West Palm Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dexter of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Seabrook and Mrs. Ernest Calande of Lake Park; Miss Johanna Wiekling, Mr. and Mrs. John McCaul and Deborah and Henry of Okeschoke, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCarthy of Clewiston.

Fourth was a SUCCESS

PAHOKEE—It was a success, say members of the Pahokee Business and Professional Women's Club. That's in reference to the club's concession stand at the Fourth of July fireworks display at Pahokee Harbor last week.

The group sold soft drinks, sandwiches and snacks at a concession stand set up at the bottom of the dike. Several members also ventured on foot throughout the crowd to sell the items.

Club members Cynthia Turbey and most of the members showed up to help out with the project and sales were very good.

Services held in new building

PAHOKEE — Members of the New Macedonia Baptist Church will hold their first service in the new edifice Sunday, July 16.

The ceremonies will begin at 2 p.m. with the Rev. W.C. Crumity, pastor of New Macedonia, Rev. O.W. West, Jr., pastor of the Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church leading the march with congregation members from the entrance of Glades Citizens Village where the new edifice is builded.

New Macedonia, formerly of Sandcut was destroyed by fire in March of 1973 when a semi-trailer ran into the building.

Members of the congregation held services at the Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church for approximately two years. Services have since been held at the St. Andrew's Baptist Church in Pelican Lake.

Since the destruction of the old edifice all 40 members of the congregation have remained together and extends an invitation to the Glades community to participate in the dedication ceremonies.

Obituary

TERRY T. MILLER

BELLE GLADE—Rosary services for Terry T. Miller, area manager for J&L Engineering Co., were recited July 6 and Funeral Mass was held Friday at St. Philip Benizi Catholic Church with Father Schenley officiating.

Miller was born in Havana, Cuba in 1925. He came to the Glades area 17 years ago from New Orleans, La. and made his home at 864 SE Fourth St. He died Wednesday, July 5 in a local hospital.

He was a member of St. Philip Benizi Catholic Church, Belle Glade Elks Lodge 1716, and the American Association of Sugar Technicians. He was a sergeant in the Army Air Force in World War II. He served as an aerial gunner aboard B-24 bombers during the European campaigns. He was a tail gunner on a B-24 during the raid on the Ploesti oil fields. He won many decorations and citations for his outstanding military sections throughout the war.

Survivors include his widow, Vivian Miller of Belle Glade; two sons, Terry Miller, Jr. of Tallahassee and Walter Miller of Gainesville; his mother, Amelia Miller of Belle Glade; one brother, William J. Miller, Jr. of Belle Glade and one grandson, Nathaniel Miller.

Pallbearers were Bill Miller, Jr., Bruce Miller, Ricky Miller, Walter Eigenbrod, Freddie Eigenbrod and Bob Andre. Burial was in the Queen of Peace Cemetery in West Palm Beach.

Mixon Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

DELLA FRANCES ALTMAN BELLE GLADE—Funeral services for Della F. Altman, 88, of 1748 NW Ave. G, a Glades resident for 44 years, were held Monday at Mixson Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Sheldon Upthegrove and the Rev. Aaron Petry officiating. Further services were conducted the same day at the Church of God in LaBelle with the Rev. John Shaw officiating.

Mrs. Altman was born in Pahakah and died Saturday at the Lee Memorial Hospital in Fort Myers. She was a member of the Worship Center—Pentecostal Holiness Church in Belle Glade, the Belle Glade Garden Club, the Home Extension Department and was the last living charter member of the Church of God in LaBelle. She was a Sunday School teacher for 45 years.

Survivors include three daughters, Edna Giese of Belle Glade, Wilma Warren of Fort Myers and Hazel Miller of West Palm Beach; two sisters, Marcia Hall of LaBelle and Myra Hall of Ocala; ten grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers included David Giese, Herbert Giese, Jimmy Wilkerson, Dean Alford, Leon Warren and Willie Veal. Burial was at the Fort Denaud Cemetery in Hendry County.

Mixon Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Christian Comments

By Bill Anderson
Pastor, First Baptist Church
South Bay

(Part one of two parts)
The Importance of Family Devotions

Many devout Christian leaders of the last century objected to the Sunday School movement. These were men of God, and this might seem a bit incongruous to us today. We are so steeped in the tradition of the Sunday School we might find it difficult to imagine how anyone could be against it. A Christian scholar did some research into the archives of some old churches in the New England area to discover the reasons given in their council meetings against the Sunday School movement. He wondered what the opposition was to teaching religion to children. To his surprise, the church leaders did not protest against more work; that was not their concern at all. Their primary objection, found recorded in the records of their council meetings was: as the church takes over the responsibility of Christian instruction of children, the families would let it go. The homes would eventually leave it to the church, and Christian education would no longer be seen as the responsibility of the home.

Has this happened? I think most of us would admit that the early Christian leaders had foresight. From my experience with Christian families, only a few have consistent family devotions. Most Christian families pray over their meals, talk about Jesus occasionally, and even sing Christian songs together during a car ride. These are all good and commendable, and I find it difficult to imagine a Christian family which did less than these. But few Christian families see the importance of teaching Biblical doctrine and the practical application of Bible truths. Few realize the importance of consistent Biblical teaching so that children can see patterns and themes in scripture, plus the importance of knowing scriptural teaching on God, Jesus, Holy Spirit, Heaven, Satan, Angels, etc. The Christian life is a life of faith, yes, but faith in what? Faith in spiritual truths; Redemption, God's promises, etc. Only as we learn about the Bible can we experience the reality of these truths in our lives. Children need to know these truths as desperately as we do. My son told me the other day, "Dad, your not my only Father. I have two fathers, a heavenly Father, and an earthly father." "That's right," I said. He needs to know that. What a great comfort to feel his father's love and to know he has a heavenly Father who loves him infinitely more than his earthly father.

Attitude... OF PRAYER

"Give ear to my words, O Lord, consider my meditation. Harken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray."

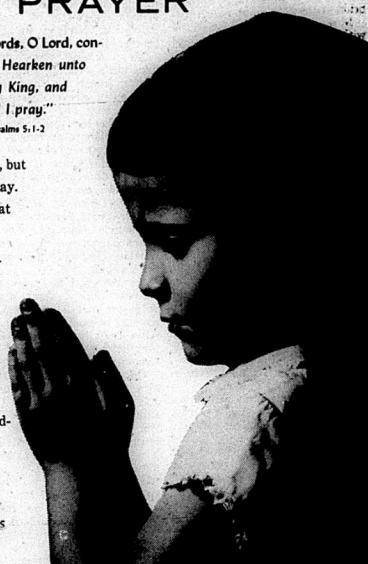

Psalms 5:1-2

God hears and answers prayers, but not everyone knows how to pray. Even the Lord's disciples asked that he teach them how to pray.

Attitude of the individual is important in prayer. Prayer is the opportunity that we have to tell God of our blessings and give thanks. It is an opportunity to petition for help, but above all, our hearts should be willing that God's will be done.

Prayer should be offered individually and in groups.

ATTEND CHURCH AND
PRAY WITH OTHERS

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Miss Averill honored with bridal shower

The week before her marriage to William M. Ritchie, of Coral Gables, Miss Dolly Averill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant E. Averill of Belle Glade was entertained with a luncheon and linen shower at her home. The tables were decorated with arrangements of garden roses from Mrs. Painters garden. The bride and the mother were presented with rose corsages.

The lunch started with champagne punch and ended with strawberry ice cream pie. Miss Averill, assisted by Mrs. Jeff Threlkeld opened many lovely gifts of linen.

Mrs. Vernon Dexter and Mrs. Louis Solomonte were the hostesses at a tea and recipe shower at the Belle Glade Country Club. Each guest gave Miss Averill a recipe from her book. An arrangement of roses from Mrs. Mill Byron decorated the serving table where tea sandwiches and small cakes were served. Mrs. Paul Oren served at the punch bowl and Mrs. Donald Bailey poured coffee. Miss and Mrs. Averill were presented with white daisy corsages.

Mrs. Edward Duda, and daughter Diane, home from Furman University, entertained with a miscellaneous shower at their home. The serving table was decorated with a cream colored cutwork tablecloth and an arrangement of yellow pompoms and daisies. Wine and home-made pound cake were served to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hooker gave a cocktail party around their swimming pool for out-of-town guests and close friends.

Mu Upsilon sorority had a morning coffee and miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Jim Keene for sorority members and sisters. Sweet pastries with coffee and hot tea were served to members and a few invited guests.

Mrs. Howard Drawdy was hostess for the bridesmaids luncheon at the Donnelly's in Clewiston. Miss Averill's attendants and out-of-town guests enjoyed the lunch. Arrangements of white roses and pompoms decorated the center of the table. The bride and her mother were presented with corsages by Mrs. Drawdy.

William M. Ritchie, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Roger L. Nielson, entertained at Ringland Hall with a rehearsal dinner. Green candles surrounded by daisies decorated the four round tables. The buffet table had an arrangement of white baby mums, carnations and white static. The out-of-town guests and bridal party enjoyed the evening.

HELD CAPTIVE FOR a brief moment was this little kitten roaming the streets of Pahokee. Since summertime is the time to be free and playful, the kitten was returned to a life of sunshine and rain as all animals and humans know is indicative of South Florida's summer.

Inspection station now open Saturday

PAHOKEE — The Palm Beach County Vehicle Inspection Station in Pahokee, as well as the other four stations in the county, will now be open on Saturdays. According to state law, one station must be open on Saturday. However, it was a county commission decision to open all inspection stations in the county on the additional day.

This arrangement, which may or may not be permanent, began July 1st. The Pahokee station is open Tuesday through Saturday, 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. and closed on Sunday and Monday.

THANK YOU NOTE

Coin phone location cards will be added

Each of Southern Bell's 340 coin telephones in the Belle Glade-Pahokee area will display a card identifying its location.

"We believe that this change will be beneficial to the public in several ways," B. Carlton White, manager for Southern Bell said.

"First, the location on the coin phones will greatly facilitate reporting emergencies since the address will be so readily available," White pointed out.

The location card will provide a person in unfamiliar surroundings with his address when calling a taxi or someone else to pick them up at a coin station.

White continued that, "The location will also be an aid to law enforcement officials when people call to report suspected crimes. The problem of figuring out what the exact location will be solved by our new signs."

Finally, these signs will help Southern Bell get out-of-order coin telephones back into service more quickly because customers calling to report a problem with a coin set will be able to tell the repair bureau exactly where the coin phone in question is located.

By early August, each one of Southern Bell's 45,000 coin telephones in Florida will display a redesigned instruction card which will include the location of the telephone as well as its telephone number and one number to call in case of emergency.

For example, a coin telephone located at the bus terminal would be identified as: Bus Terminal; 233 SE Ave; Belle Glade, Florida 33430.

At the Belle Glade Marina, the location card might read: Marina; Pavilion; Tory Island; Belle Glade, Florida 33480.

"We have taken great care to identify each of our pay phone locations as accurately as possible and in a way that will be meaningful to our customers," White said.

"We're doing some other things to increase the value of coin telephone service. For example, we have already converted all our coin phones so that without having to deposit any money the customer can get dial tone. This dial tone first feature allows a person to call an operator for help in an emergency without losing time finding a coin. We're also installing coin phones at a lower height to accommodate people in wheelchairs and children," White concluded.

Grindstaff on Dean's List

ORLANDO—Michael Joseph Grindstaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Grindstaff, of 140 Royal Palm Drive in Belle Glade, was named to the deans list at Florida Technological University for the spring quarter.

To be eligible for the honor, a student must compile a minimum 3.4 grade point average while enrolled for at least 12 quarter hours of study. Grindstaff is majoring in finance.

Parris makes honor roll

Thomas M. Parris, a Tennessee Tech student from Pahokee, Florida, has earned a place on the university's spring quarter Honor roll as a result of his academic performance.

Parris is among the 1,416 students on the list for the quarter. To make Tennessee Tech's Honor Roll, students must earn a grade point average of 3.7 or higher out of a possible 4.0 to be included in the Highest Distinction category, 3.4 or higher for High Distinction, or 3.1 or higher for Distinction.

Parris made the Distinction category.

Educational problems are discussed by Lions

BELLE GLADE — At the Lions Club meeting last Wednesday, Palm Beach County School board member Arthur Bougae, spoke on some of his thoughts about education.

Bougae said that the reason he ran for his seat eight years ago was because of his dislike of the "other guys' ideas."

"Public education has made this nation great," he said. Young people were taught to read and write with a purpose in mind, to read the scriptures, this he said was true until the turn of the 19th century.

Presently the many public education critics, he said, these institutions and educators are not doing their job, that they have failed us. "I don't believe so," he said. These feelings are particularly true in this county, where more private schools in the state are located than any other county.

Bougae said two things must be taken into consideration when evaluating Palm Beach County's school system. First, Florida has a state school system with the Governor and five cabinet members as heads, and second the radical social changes occurring within the past 25 years in this country.

Speaking of Belle Glade individually, where education is such a big issue, some comments were made on reasons why the first private school emerged. According to Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth desegregation was not the reason. She said that it was opened because many parents were concerned with the quality of education being offered their children. "In Pahokee," Mrs. Wedgworth said, "they were teaching a chemistry course without a lab."

Others agreed that the reason their children attended private schools had to do with desegregation. They felt their children would not be performing to the best of their ability in a classroom where the overall level had been dropped. "The opportunity is there," Bougae said, "and I think we are making progress, swinging back to the people." He said that those students who wish to achieve will do so under any circumstance.

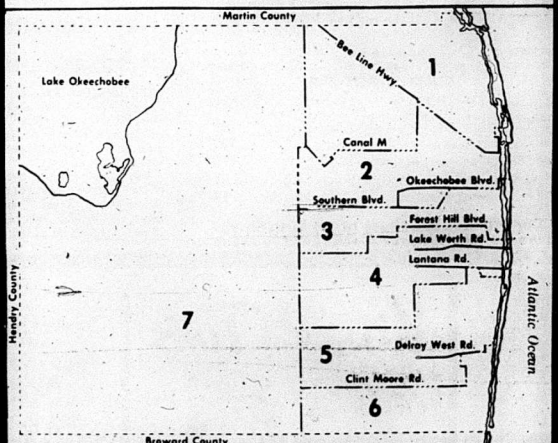

Bougae said that we have great teachers as well as administrators, but the problems are there, if a student does not wish to achieve he won't.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The residential districts for members of the Palm Beach County School Board were changed at a meeting of the Board held November 22, 1977. The map below outlines the seven non-partisan districts as adopted.

In 1978 there will be a countywide non-partisan election of School Board members residing in Districts 2, 4, 5 and 6. The election will be held at the time of the first primary on September 12th with a run-off, if necessary, at the time of the general election on November 7th. A similar election will be held in 1980 for Districts 1, 3 and 7.

Information concerning specific boundaries and precincts is available from the Office of Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections or from the Public Information Office, Palm Beach County School Board, 3323 Belvedere Road, West Palm Beach, Florida.

Weeks-Dobrow are wed in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE—Mitchell Kay Weeks and Michael Hugh Dobrow were united in marriage June 24 at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade with the Rev. Robert Atkins performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray O. Weeks of Belle Glade and the groom is the son of Oscar Dobrow of Lake Worth and the late Marian Jones Dobrow.

The church was decorated in the manner of a southern summer garden. Areca and lady palms flanked the choir loft and front alcoves. Pots of white chrysanthemums blossomed behind a low, white New Orleans style wrought iron fence below the choir rail. The rail was draped with asparagus fern caught in swags by white and peach colored bouquets. Two large white fireside baskets filled with peach carnations, pom poms and white majestics interspersed with myrtle, Australian tree fern and camellia foliage were placed on each side of the steps. Matching bouquets in candelabra were on the piano and organ. The sanctuary had dozens of candles in spirals and an arch. Three candles were lit in each window amid flowers and fern. An arch decorated with greens and peach and white pom poms formed an entrance from the foyer. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. John Youngblood, organist, played the traditional wedding music. Mrs. Richard Schmidt sang Because and Whither Thou Goest. At the close of the ceremony, Mrs. Schmidt sang The Lord's Prayer while the couple knelt on a white prayer bench.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white dress of silks organza. The swirl skirt extended from an empire waist. The bodice was V-necked front and back, with triple ruffles forming short sleeves. Hemlines of the skirt and sleeves were edged in tiny white flowers. The bodice and skirt was scattered with lace flowerettes. A fingertip illusion veil, scalloped with trim matching the dress, was held by a lace madonna cap.

The bride's bouquet was a galaxy cascade of ivy, stephanotis and seven white Phloxenopsis orchids. Her jewelry was an opal necklace, a gift from the groom.

Laura Weeks, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a sea shell peach sheath dress with a pleated chiffon cape featuring a tie bow at the neckline.

Suzanne Hill, the bridesmaid, wore an aqua dress fashioned along similar lines, but with a ribbon pleated skirt and cape having a cameo necklace.

Both attendants carried galaxy cascades of ivy, stephanotis and Sonia peach roses.

Gib Tucker of Pahokee served as best man. Al Grooms and Robbie Stein, both of Belle Glade, were ushers. All men in the wedding party wore white tuxedos.

The mother of the bride wore a white silk organza floor length dress with chiffon overskirt and short jacket that tied under the bodice front. The sleeves and skirt were hemmed in handkerchief points. Both jacket and skirt were random printed in pastel bouquets of spring flowers. Her brooch corsage was a single Sonia rose surrounded by three stephanotis and was worn in the center of the bodice.

The grandmother of the bride and groom each wore white cymbidium orchid corsages. Mrs. I.W. Weeks and Mrs. W.A. Keen are the bride's grandmothers and Mrs. Edna Jones is the groom's grandmother. All are from Pahokee.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Belle Glade Country Club. Sid Ziering, a strolling musician of Palm Beach, furnished entertainment.

Out of town guests were from

Palm Beach, Lake Worth, Arcadia, Fort Myers, Clewiston, Cleveland, Tenn., Virginia Beach, Va., Fort Lauderdale, Lake Park, North Palm Beach, Jupiter and West Palm Beach

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jones of Belle Glade announce the marriage of their daughter Jana Barfield to Paul Bramlett on July 8, 1978. The wedding took place at the First Baptist Church of Jacksonville.

Florida with the Reverend Fred A. McCormick officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Bramlett are both former residents of Belle Glade and are now making their home in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Barnes attends Parent's Day

UNIVERSITY, MISS.—Mrs. D.H. Barnes of Belle Glade, recently attended a Parent's Day Conference at the University of Mississippi.

The conference, first of three to be held this summer, is sponsored by the University in conjunction with its seven Counseling and Pre-Registration Conference for high school and junior college transfer students who will attend Ole Miss.

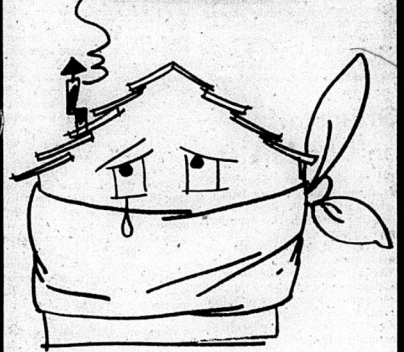

The special day for parents of prospective students is designed to give them an opportunity to meet with University faculty members, administration officials and representatives from the student body, and tour the campus.

Softball tournament is scheduled

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee Men's Softball league will sponsor a weekend tournament July 14, 15, and 16, with all proceeds going to the Pahokee High School girl's field and track program.

The tournament will begin Friday at 6 p.m. and last until Sunday around 6 p.m. Teams from Belle Glade, Clewiston, Pahokee, and Okeechobee will be participating.

The National Learning System's program: "Speedreading and Comprehension Skills" is a new concept in speedreading instruction which is priced at 25% to 40% less than the cost of similar programs. To introduce this program to the Palm Beaches it is now being offered at two enrollments for the price of one. The second person enrolling pays only a materials fee of thirty dollars. This offer is limited to the first thirty double enrollments.

EDUCATOR

"Reading is the foundation of all education and, in far too many cases, students' study skills—particularly their reading skills—are just not good enough to meet the demands of a good university curriculum. One prominent educator has predicted that, in the near future, students will be required to complete a professional speedreading program before admission to many universities."

MICHAEL W. WOOD
BUSINESS EXECUTIVE

"Good reading skills are tremendously important to any business leader or professional person. Professional leaders must digest magazines and newspapers of general interest in addition to the journals and technical materials necessary to keep abreast of developments in his field of special competence. Since leaving school, I have noticed that nearly every book, article, or tape on the subject of time management mentions the desirability of speedreading training."

The National Learning Systems program, Speedreading and Comprehension Skills has the following outstanding features:

1. Small classes 10/1 student-teacher ratio.
2. Individualized instruction - progress at your own speed.
3. Certified teachers, professionally trained.
4. Convenient and flexible scheduling.
5. Multi-media student kit with tape cassettes for home study.
6. Program material on study skills and time organization.
7. Unlimited free review and refresher classes.
8. Moderate cost—25% to 40% less than similar courses.

infected plants. Up until Friday, the teams had been treating the disease by "roguing out" the diseased plants, easily identified by a telltale whip at the tip of the stalk, putting them in plastic bags, dousing the bags inside and out with flammable fluids and burned.

Dr. Joseph Orsenigo, director of agricultural research with the Florida Sugar Cane League, repeated the caution to be taken with the infected plants, relating how teams in Jamaica who found newly infected plants would walk out of the fields waving the whips like banners and losing millions of spores amid uninfected cane.

Poucher said he's never worked with an industry as cooperative with the governmental agency teams as the sugar industry, saying he'd been given everything he could ask for.

On a positive note, Jack Dean said the Florida sugar industry could be more fortunate than other places where smut has attacked the cane.

"If you're one-variety industry," he said, "you're in trouble. Fortunately, we aren't." While admitting no one knows too much yet about the smut, Dean said he didn't believe the impact on the Florida industry would be severe.

He noted that when the Argentina sugar industry was attacked by smut in 1940, it was feared the entire industry would be wiped out but noted there was a low point in production in 1943 and after that, resistant varieties were found. "This is the way to control smut," he said.

"We will go through a period of variety shifting," Dean said. "The main effect (of the smut) will be a drag on the variety breeding program."

He noted in Hawaii, 70 percent of the new breeds after smut arrived were susceptible but that figure was brought down to 20 percent, a figure the researchers and the industry could live with.

"Then, as often happens with smut fungi," he said, "they had a new race attack previously resistant cane varieties. The last I heard, about one third of the new varieties resistant to the old race were susceptible."

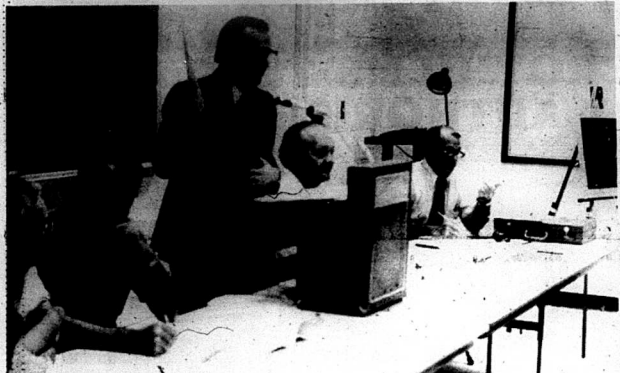

"In my opinion," Dean went on, "there will be about a 40 percent decrease in the productivity of the program."

Dr. Purdy said one of the priorities right now is to get "some identification of the particular pathogen population. We're working on the assumption that what's in Jamaica is what's here. That's a fair assumption but it isn't entirely true."

Purdy said his experience with smut was with wheat smut when he was working on a control program in Washington state. He reported smut had been suc-

South Shore woman held in murder of husband

SOUTH BAY—A South Shore Labor Camp resident was being held without bond Tuesday in Palm Beach County Jail in connection with the stabbing death of her husband during a domestic argument.

Jewell June, 47, a resident of the United States Sugar Corporation labor camp, was stabbed to death with a kitchen knife at about 9:15 p.m., according to a report from the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office.

Mary Johnson June, 22, also a resident of 221A South Shore Village, was arrested on the scene by Deputy Sheriff Ted Keys and was later charged with the first degree murder of her husband. June was taken to Glades General Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Brawl is investigated

SOUTH BAY—An early morning free-for-all at Jody's Restaurant Saturday is still being investigated by the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office according to Lt. George Suttle of the Sheriff's Glades sub-station.

Suttle said there were apparently 14 persons involved in the 4 a.m. melee, which he said resulted in the injury of South Bay Patrolman Charles Ford and approximately $350 worth of property damage to the restaurant.

Senior legislators meet

BELLE GLADE—Independence, adequate housing, transportation, employment opportunities and health care are among the top priorities in meeting the needs of the nation's senior citizens.

At a meeting of the Silver Haired Legislature held at the Belle Glade City Hall last Wednesday, a half dozen Glades residents pointed out the "same pressing needs of the Glades senior citizens to representative Joe Martin and Samuel Bottosto."

Marian Kendig of the Palm Beach Community Health Center/Glades Branch told the representatives, "There has never been enough housing in this town, and the older people are the ones who get shoved behind because their incomes are fixed and not as lucrative as the ones who can afford to pay for them."

Kendig added that there is a need for special senior citizens housing complexes to be built with special ramps, and facilities designed especially with the senior citizens in mind.

"The housing complex should also provide recreational activities," she said.

Hattie M. Fields, director of the Belle Glade/South Bay target area Community Action Council, said funds for the "Meals on Wheels" program administered by her agency are inadequate and rapidly diminishing.

ved, Mrs. Fields said.

"What will they be doing for meals if the program goes out?" she asked the two representatives. "I find that it is a worthwhile program but the governing board should also consider extending the Meals on Wheels program to weekends and holidays."

Mrs. Fields also said there is a need for physicians in the area who specialize in the treatment of the elderly.

CAC carries patients to the kidney Center in West Palm Beach weekly and if that type of service were offered in the Glades, instead of traveling the 40 or 50 miles to get treatment, the funds used for the trips to West Palm Beach could be put to use someplace else, she added.

Ed Workman, a private citizen, said the greatest need, of senior citizens is the need to be independent, "a feeling they can handle their own problems, with a little help," he said.

Workman pointed out that Mrs. Kendig was an example of senior citizen's independence, having become involved with various activities although she is confined to the use of crutches.

Ms. Daisy McCoy, director of the Florida Farmworkers Council's Pahokee office outlined the need for another transportation contractor in the Glades, rental subsidies and employment programs for the elderly which will enable them to live by themselves in dignity and independence.

"The two day transportation service provided by Operation Concern is inadequate to meet the demands of the area," she said. "You can have all the services; but if there's no transportation they're no good," Ms. McCoy said.

Bottosto, who also serves as chairman of the Gulfstream Area-wide Council on Aging said there were at least $24,000 left in funds for minority contracting and could not understand why a proposal was not submitted to obtain these funds to be used for transportation.

Ms. McCoy also questioned why the Glades area always comes up, "on the short end of the stick," receiving less funds than any area in the five county area served by district nine.

She also criticized the lack of representation from the Glades on county, multicounty and state boards dealing with the problems of senior citizens.

Bottosto said there were several openings on the Gulfstream Council advisory board and would welcome any one who is interested in the drive to West Palm Beach to attend the meetings to become a member of the board.

The ideas collected in the Glades, along with ideas collected at the nine previous Silver Haired Legislature meetings and the 10 bills drawn up by the Silver Haired delegation will be presented at the statewide meeting of the Silver Haired Legislature July 10-17 to be held in Tallahassee.

Martin, who is chairman of the county delegation said the seniors' legislature hopes to stimulate the interest of the state legislators on the needs of the senior citizens and of the state legislators on the needs of the senior citizens

Streets, drainage priority PHA items

PAHOKEE-Pahokee Housing Authority commissioners Walter Stephens and chairman James Harry Wilkerson pointed the finger at streets and drainage as priority items for maintenance employees to correct.

Wilkerson said some work had been accomplished but more is needed, since he and commissioner Stephens toured last month's regular meeting. Wilkerson said Tuesday that the condition of the streets and drainage in all of the projects is in terrible shape.

Wilkerson also said he had authorized the maintenance supervisor to purchase approximately 400 dollars worth of hot asphalt to patch streets. Commissioner Israel Cooper said that the streets have been patched several times and

"everytime it rains, the same holes are back again." He commented "it's a waste of time and money."

Previous patching, however, has been done primarily with dry materials such as sand or dirt, so it is expected that asphalt repairs will prevent holes from reappearing so soon.

Executive Director Mary Ellen Van Winkle reported that Community Development funds have been approved to fully repave several areas in Padgett and Fremd Villages of the authority. Since a definite date has not been set on the complete street repairs, the hot asphalt patching efforts were approved by the board of commissioners.

Wilkerson further stated he felt the authority should be able to accomplish more with the help that it has, than has been accomplished. At his request, it was noted that, in maintenance there are 17 CETA (Cooperative Employment and Training Act) employees as compared to 11 housing authority employees and about five SPEDY employees from a summer employment program for students. Wilkerson said supervisors should "keep one step ahead" of these employees to ensure they have work to do and are completing such work.

With the fiscal year ending June 30th, Miss Van Winkle said the Pahokee authority did not go over the budget on any items except capital expenditures which was exceeded by $80. She also noted that the amount of rent not collected has decreased substantially from last year. September's figure was $20,000, while June's figure is $7,474. She speculated the figure would probably increase again this September by several thousand dollars, due to the lack of available work for tenants, but nowhere near the $20,000 mark.

Miami Herald still winning after pair of upset victories

By Karen Hansford

BELLE GLADE - The team of Miami Herald upped its record to four wins with upsets over Wallis Pharmacy and Community United Methodist Church (CUMC) and a 43-0 triumph against first-year Bank of Pahokee.

Jeanie Britt singled in the winning run in the last inning as the Herald edged ahead to a 7-6 victory over Wallis.

Action was tense throughout the game as the Wallis batters led off with two runs and Miami Herald came back with three to take the lead. Karen Hansford doubled in a run in the second inning to tie the game.

Bothe teams added a run in the third and held a stand-off in the fourth. Donna Akin whacked a two-base shot into centerfield and scored the first of two runs as Wallis pulled ahead in the fifth inning, but Herald's offense came through again in the bottom of the inning as Sherri Herring and Barbara Morgan crossed the plate.

Wallis was held to no gain in the sixth and last inning while Miami Herald put runners on first and second with one out, then Britt's single scored the winning run.

The game was called after the sixth inning because of the time limit expiring. Wallis' record dropped to two wins and two losses.

In the second game of the doubleheader, undefeated South Bay Growers squeaked past Dixie Fried Chicken by one run in its closest win of the year.

No runs were scored in the first inning as both teams concentrated on defense, then South Bay got on the scoreboard in the second inning when Janet McKinley and Carey Wilson rounded the bases. The team added another two to lead by four after three innings of play.

Dixie Fried's offense began moving in the fourth inning as the three leadoff batters rapped out singles and then scored to trail by only one run.

Sherry Miller added South Bay's lone run in the fifth when she doubled and went on home, then the team pushed another run across in the sixth inning to make it six to three.

Dixie Fried wasn't through yet, however, as Diane Wedgworth and Rhonni Cox each made it to second and first based respectively, then Diane Duda knocked out a two-base hit with two outs to make the score six to five, and the tying run on second base.

South Bay Growers pulled out of it when third baseman caught a fly ball for the final out, leaving the runner stranded.

It was the Baptists versus the Methodists in Thursday's doubleheader, played June 29 in Canal Point.

The first half of the game belonged to CUMC as the runners tallied five runs in the first inning to First Baptist's one. First Baptist brought three runs across in the second, but CUMC bounced back in the bottom of the inning with two, one of them a double by Janie Priest.

The girls added one more in the third to lead eight to four, before the First Baptist players began wielding their bats for nine runs off six hits, including a double by Brenda Davis.

That was it for CUMC as First Baptist held them to no score during the rest of the game while

Hunting permits are mailed

TALLAHASSEE - There are more than 6,000 sportsmen in Florida who already know where they will be hunting the first nine days of hunting season this fall.

They are the ones who applied early for their quota hunt permit from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and their permits have already been mailed back to them.

"At this time, six wildlife management areas are already filled and others are reaching their quota," said Fred Stanberry, director of the Commission's Division of Wildlife.

The wildlife management areas which have filled included Big Cypress: North, Cypress Creek, Camp Blanding, Buc Creek, the first weekend on Three Lakes and Lykes Brothers Fishbeating Creek.

Close to filling are the Ocala, Brown's Farm and the first weekend in Green Swamp wildlife management area.

Stanberry urged hunters not to delay sending in their applications, but to do so as soon as possible. The Commission will accept applications for quota hunt permits through September 23.

In addition to the quota hunt permit, which is designed to ease hunting pressure during the first days of the season, the Commission has another program of special hunts for sportsmen which Stanberry's office is handling.

On five wildlife management

Sports

areas, special primitive weapons, modern guns and archery hunts are offered. Sportsmen who wish to participate in these hunts can apply for permits on a special application form available only through the regional offices of the Commission.

Applications for these special hunts will be accepted by the Commission beginning July 10 through September 15. As these hunts are extremely popular, Stanberry again urged interested sportsmen to apply early.

Wildlife management areas having these hunts include Bull Creek, Camp Blanding, Citrus, Guana River and Joe Budd.

Anyone desiring an application can either call or come by the offices of the Commission in Panama City, Lake City, Lakeland, Ocala and West Palm Beach or call toll-free: Panama City-1-800-342-1676; Lake City-1-800-342-8105; Ocala-1-800-342-9620; Lakeland-1-800-282-8002; and West Palm Beach-1-800-432-2046.

New regulations for off-the-road vehicles

A law passed by the 1978 Florida Legislature will soon require operators of off-the-road unlicensed vehicles to purchase a $10.00 registration sticker.

Effective October 1, all unlicensed off-road vehicles (except boats) operated on public lands, including wildlife management areas, will be required to display a registration sticker which will be available from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission office in Tallahassee. Each vehicle will be required to have a separate sticker.

Also effective Oct. 1, the Commission will discontinue issuing buggy and aircraft registrations from regional offices, according to Regional Manager Louis F. Gainey. "If a sportsman has already registered his vehicle," Gainey advised, "the permit will be in effect until Oct. 1, and we will continue to register new buggies until that time. After that date, ALL operators will be required to purchase a registration sticker from Tallahassee."

Gainey announced, in addition, that the Commission was no longer issuing aircraft operators permits. "The airboater," Gainey said, "will still be required to display his Boat Registration Number but will not need an operator's permit. The same for the buggy or half-track operator," continued Gainey. "They will be required to display the new registration number on their vehicle in the same bold lettering as before but won't need to apply for an operator's permit."

Children's field day is July 22

BELLE GLADE - The Glades Mahogany will sponsor a Field Day of Activities on Saturday, July 22 at the Lake Shore Elementary School Field, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. for children from 4 to 15 years old.

There will be hotdogs for 25 cents and free drinks, many prizes will be given to top winners.

There will be balloon bursts, apple bobbing, watermelon eating and many more.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. games start at 10 a.m.

Tournaments continuing

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade Recreation Department is continuing its Mixed Doubles and Ladder Tournaments (16 and older). Registration is $2 per person.

Registration forms can be picked up at the City Recreation Department through July 21. The tournament will begin Tuesday, July 25.

knocking in another four runs in the fifth inning to win, 17-8. The game was called after five innings because of the time limit.

CUMC ended up on the bottom again the following Thursday when the team clashed with Miami Herald and lost, 12-7. The highlight of the game was Donna Jean Doney's over-the-fence homerun in the fourth inning, knocking in two of Miami Herald's runs. Doney's hit was the first one to go over the (left field) fence this season.

CUMC took the lead in the first inning as Kelly Teets hit a bases-loaded double deep into left field for three of the team's five runs to Miami Herald's four.

Both teams added a run in the second, then Miami Herald took the lead in the next inning as Mary Brown and Kathy Hager scored. Doney's two-run homer in the fourth made it nine to six, then Janie Priest crossed the plate for CUMC's last run of the game. The Miami Herald drilled in three runs in the sixth inning for a final score of 12-7.

The second game found a much-improved Bank of Pahokee holding first-place South Bay Growers to only 14 runs in seven innings, but lost to them, 14-3.

Only three multi-base hits were batted during the game. Mary Lou Stevens and Sherry Miller of South Bay Growers slammed a triple and a double, while Cindy Riddle walloped a two-base hit for Bank of Pahokee.

Bank of Pahokee's three runs came in the second inning as the runners took advantage of five errors. South Bay put the game out of reach in the last two innings for its fifth win of the season.

League standings as of 7/17/78:
South Bay Growers, 5-0; First Baptist Church, 3-1; Miami Herald, 4-2; CUMC, 4-3; Wells Pharmacy, 2-3; Dixie Fried Chicken, 1-3; Local 2152, 0-4; Bank of Pahokee, 0-4.

Where do all the wild hogs go?

Every year, sportsmen keep asking the Game & Fresh Water Fish Commission what happened to the wild hogs the Commission stocked in the Everglades Wildlife Management Area.

The Commission wants to know, too, and that is the subject of a public meeting on Tuesday, July 18, at the Department of Transportation Building, 780 S.W. 24th Street (S.R. 84) in Fort Lauderdale.

Wildlife biologists will present plans to set up a wild hog dispersal study in the Everglades Conservation area west of the Miami canal and north of Alligator Alley (S.R. 84).

The area has been closed to hog hunting for the past several years, according to Major Louis F. Gaaney, the Commission's Regional Manager. "We plan to stock additional hogs from other areas for study purposes," Gaaney said. "In hopes we can find out exactly how and where the hogs move in the sawgrass."

All sportsmen are urged to attend the meeting which will begin at 8 p.m.

Former administrator promoted in Georgia

RIDGECREST, GA. — Dr. Richard J. Turner, President of Ridgecrest Medical Center in Georgia, has announced the appointment of Fred Nalle, Jr., former administrator of the Everglades Memorial Hospital, as administrator of the Ridgecrest Medical Center, replacing Guy

Fisher, who recently resigned. Nalle has a twenty year background in hospital administration and financial management. He has been associated with Ridgecrest Medical Center since September of 1977.

He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from the University of Florida. His wife, Kitty, and his three children, Karen, Kimberly and Billy reside in Clayton. A daughter, Kathy is currently living in Denver, Colorado.

During the six-day meeting, 40 of the world's top producing agents are discussing subjects of vital concern both to the public and those in the life insurance field. The program also features several nationally noted speakers including the Governor of Maine and a health and exercise expert. A special Hawaiian show, "The Golden
People," traces the cultural history of our 50th state.

GED test offered

The Department of Adult and Community Education announces that the Florida High School Equivalency Diploma Test (G.E.D.) will be given July 18 and 19 at the Adult Education Center, 1235 15th Street in West palm Beach.

Fina station is sold

BELLE GLADE - Leonardo Navarro and Juan Camero handed over the Belle Glade Fina Friday to Juan Baez and Luis Troncoso, after three years as co-owners. "It was a big decision" Navarro said, "We are very grateful to all our customers and we know that they will be pleased with Juan and Luis."

Baez and Troncoso are both residents of Belle Glade and know the people in the area. "Most of our friends know that we own the station and by this we hope to let the others know," Baez said.
When asked how they decided to buy the station both agreed that it was their desire to be their own bosses. Troncoso, a former mechanic with Sugar Cane Growers, and Baez, a parts clerk at Duda's, said they found the opportunity to buy the Fina Station their perfect chance. They feel Belle Glade is a good place to own a business, "It's growing every day" they said the people here are good.

The Belle Glade Fina, located at 281 S. Main St., is a full service station and Troncoso, an expert mechanic, is available for any needed repairs.

In order to bring better service to their customers, Troncoso and Baez will be traveling to Atlanta,
Ga. to attend courses on service station management. They said they want everyone to be satisfied with their service and ask everyone to please let them know if they are not pleased.

The Fina will be open seven days, Monday through Saturday 6-9 and Sunday 7-7 during the summer. In the fall the hours will change.
